5. From the Statement prepared in the Office and attached hereto it will be seen that nearly all - marked A - the Offices can certainly spare more men for censes work. It must, however, be borne in mine the preliminary censes operations are in progress - necessarily fall upon the Office work but it cannot be helped the censes must be considered as of paramount importance Rule 4 Instrs and H.Q. Offices will Co-operate loyally by sparing as many as they can possibly work. Excepting the very highest and the lowest all the rest you Statt can easily be spared without much inconvenience and it is therefore submitted that a D.O. My dear Sir,

In regard to the additional hands required by you for employment as Census Enumerators and Supervisors, the heads of the various offices in Bangalore who were written to, have reported their inability to depute any more menfrom their offices. It is therefore necessary to employ paid men for the work. The Dewan desires me to ask you to employ the minimum number possible of additional men absolutely required, on lump-sum payments not exceeding what is absolutely necessary and not exceeding the rates of payment for similar paid labour on the occasion of the last census. Please report in due course the action taken by you in the matter. The question of debiting the cost to the Deptts. who have deputed for Census work a smaller number of men than on the last occasion will be separately considered.

Yours sincerely,
Sd/- K. Matthan.

Dear Sir,

In reply to your D.O. No. Fl.2697-723 dated 24th November, I regret to inform you that the staff of the Central Observatory, Bangalore, consists of only five hands and does not permit of any of these being deputed for Census work. A visit to the Observatory to get an insight into the nature of the work there will convince one of the above. The institution is open for work daily from 9 A.M. to 5 P.M. and I may inform that the Government were pleased to exempt the staff of this Observatory from Census work during the last Census of 1891.

Your D. O. No.Fl.7697-723 of the 24th instant to hand. Out of the present staff of my establishment the Deputy Amildar and the two Inspectors are itenerating -- officers and of the five clerks, one clerk has gone on leave on account of his wife being attacked with plague, and one is required to accompany me on tours. I have already mentioned in my letter No.1185/C.S.64 dated 25/26th May 1910 to the President of the Bangalore Municipal Council that excepting two, none others can be spared. I therefore regret that it is not possible to spare any more officials of my establishment for the Census work.

My dear Sir,

With reference to your Do O. No. Fl 2697-723 dated 24th instant about deputing officials for Census work, I enclose herein a copy of the Statement sent to the President of the Municipal Council of Bangalore.

It will be seen that out of the ten officials of my Establishment, two are Vaidiks whom it might not be satisfactory to employ on Census work. I have withheld two other clerks as they are to go out with me on tour. The services of others i.e. of 6 out of 8 practically, were made available for Census work and I find that the Municipal President has selected only 5. If you think that in these circumstances any more can be spared, I shall depute them also.

Dear Sir

In reply to your D.O. No.Fl.2697-773, dated the 24th November 1910, I beg to inform you with reference to para 3 thereof that it must have been an oversight on the part of the office of the Deputy Commissioner of Bangalore to have shewn in the statement submitted by him to you that I have allowed none of the members of my Department for census work.

2. In May last the President of the City Municipality asked me for a statement of the officials on my establishment who could be nominated as Supervisors and Enumerators and in complying with his request I stated that, with the exception of the services of the draughtsmen, I could spare

the services of some of the officials in the mornings.

3. Again, in August last the President wrote to me about the loan of clerks for census operations and I invited his attention to the statement sent by me and I informed him that I could spare the services of 2 clerks at once and later on 1 more. Thus I have already placed three out of my 8 clerks at the disposal of the President for census operations. If absolutely necessary, I can spare another clerk also.

To

The Secretary to the Government of
His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore,

Sir,

With reference to your D.O. No. Fl. 2697-723 of the 24th instant I have the honour to note that Government Order No.Fl. 488-528/Cen. 19-09-4 dated 29th July 1910 states explicitly that services of officials of departments should be made available without prejudice to their duties. In previous letters to yourself and to the President, Municipal Council, Bangalore City, I have indicated that the nature of my work was such and the staff was so small that men could not be spared without prejudice to their duties and this especially from the fact that many of them frequently have to work both mornings and afternoons in the Laboratory and most of them have as occasion demands to go on tours of shorter or longer duration. I also considered and still consider that their services would be of more value to Government if utilized in this way than if utilized for Census work.

In view of your present letter I consider that the services of one of my office staff, Abdul Lateef might be spared for morning work but this I may say is as much as I can do unless indeed Government considers the work of this Department of so little importance that demonstration and other work already planned can be neglected or held in abeyance until after the census enumeration has taken place.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

Public Works Secretariat,
Bangalore, 30th November 1910.

Dear Sir,

With reference to para 3 of your D.O. No. Fl. 2697-723 dated the 24th instant, I beg to inform you that there are 28 hands in my office. Of these, five have been deputed for census work in the City and five more in the Civil and Military Station where they reside. Having regard to the views of Government in the matter, I have now detailed for work in the City two more officials and intimated their names (as noted in the margin) to the Deputy Commissioner.

I regret no more hands can be spared without actual detriment to office work.

Yours sincerely,

the names of offices which have expressed to the Vice President their inability to spare any hands from their offices for Census work.

4. The census class has to be started at once; but this cannot be done unless the full complement of Census officers is secured and sannads are issued appointing them as supervisors and enumerators.

5. The Vice President states that in spite of the endeavours made by him to secure the services of private gentlemen for census work, he was not able to get more than a couple of persons willing to take up this work. As it may not be possible to make them work without remuneration and even then, they may not turn out efficient work, the Census work is likely to be retarded, unless some of the officers come to our help and spare more hands than they have done at present.

6. I request that you will be so good as to place the matter before Government and obtain their orders early instructing the marginally noted officers in statement A and those mentioned in statement B, to spare as many more hands as possible. It will be seen that the number of hands spared from some of these offices is proportionately very small when compared with the existing staff.

D.C.No. H.2697-723 General and Revenue Secretariat,

(3) Bangalore, 24 November 1910.

Dear Sir,

The Deputy Commissioner, Bangalore District, has complained to Government that some Heads of officers have not readily complied with his request for men for Census duty and that inconsequence the number required for Census work in the City has not yet been made up. I am directed to invite your attention to this matter and to request you to be so good as to spare as many as possible for the work.

2. I need hardly say that Government consider that the Census should be regarded as of paramount importance, while it lasts and look to a loyal co-operation on the part of its officers to make it a success.

3. In the statement submitted by the Deputy Commissioner it is seen that you have allowed for Census work and considering the strength of your establishment it is clear that some more can be spared for that work.

4. Government are aware that the taking away of the men for Census work must necessarily affect the despatch of work to some extent but they hope that as the deputation is only to last for a short while and as the men will not be at it whole time the inconvenience will not be much.

5. I have therefore to request you to depute as many more as you can spare and report the fact and the number so spared for the information of Government in due course early.

Yours Sincerely,

C S Balasundaram
